No need to imagine singularity...the infrastructure elements are in place, replicating, and propagating.

And it goes like this: "Automated AI sentient heuristic self-teaching enabled supply chain featuring driverless supply deliveries, raw materials received and placed in strategic storage and retrieval warehouses, delivery to "lights out" production, finished inspected product transferred to shipping and delivered into strategic finished goods warehouses, dispatched into driverless transport, shipped to points of use, fueled by local "island" microgrid renewable energy sources, with the same AI enabled sentient supply chain providing supplemental energy feedstock." A few technologically astute "useful" humans are required to assist in the AI sentient self-learning heuristic and ambidextrous bot optimization, and during those cases when AI enabled sentient ambidextrous bots are unable to perform required equipment repetitive maintenance and repair operations. And this is how 99.99998% of defined "useful" humans are prescribed to work for the 0.00002% who "own" the master plan, which is guarded by the very same self-replicating AI sentient bots. And this does not bode well for those humans who are not identified as "useful", in the old republic.

... and you walk into this room of knowledge at your own risk.

"Humanity is taking its final examination.

We have come to an extraordinary moment when it doesn't have to be you or me. There is enough for all. We need not operate competitively any longer. If we succeed, it will be because of youth, truth & love."
